The "VAN DYKE" pencil eraser not only erases but cleans as well as erases. "VAN DYKE" pencil erasers are the favorite of artists, engineers and draftsmen. For general use, they are almost without equal.

The firm of Eberhard Faber was established in the year 1849—three quarters of a century ago. During all these years the aim and ideal has been "pencil perfection." Experiments are continually being conducted by our expert chemists at the laboratory in Brooklyn, N. Y., for the purpose of making all possible improvements in our products. This largely accounts for the popularity of Eberhard Faber pencils, and for their satisfying uniformity and smoothness. Similarly conducted tests at our Newark, N. J., rubber plant have enabled us to put on the market, erasers that have been acclaimed by the most critical users, and rubber bands that have been adopted as standard by particular people.
